Attempt to Assassinate the Governor---Troops Sent Out.

Havana, Sept. 23.—Excitement is at fever heat at Havana and Cienfuegos over the sensational shooting at Cienfuegos resulting in the killing of Congressman Villuendas, leader of the liberal party, and Chief of Police Illance.

The excitement has been communicated to many parts of the island, to which the news of the shooting has reached.

Clashes between the police and people are reported from several places and troops are being hurried to all points where danger threatens. Five car loads of soldiers with artillery and eighteen thousand rounds of ammunition were sent to Cienfuegos.

How It Happened.

Havana, Sept. 23.—Official dispatches from Cienfuegos announce the killing of Congressman Enrique Villuendas, leader of the lower liberal party and the most able orator in the lower house and the chief of police of Cienfuegos during the conflict between liberal and moderates. Government advices say the police had information that within the hotel in which Villuendas resided a quantity of arms had been deposited and they went to the hotel to investigate the matter.

As the police ascended the stairs they were met by a party of liberals who fired on them, killing Chief of Police Illance.

The police returned the fire, killing Villuendas and wounding several others.

Intense excitement prevails at Cienfuegos and Havana.

A special train carrying rurales, a battery of artillery has been sent to Cienfuegos.

Attempted to Assassinate Governor.

Havana, Sept. 23.—An extra session of the house of representatives was held last night at which the disturbances at Cienfuegos were discussed.

General Jose Miguel Gomez, governor of Santa Clara province, liberal candidate for president, arrived here last night.

According to a report in circulation the governor declared an attempt was made to assassinate him in his official residence.

HURT IN ACCIDENT.

Mr. Arthur Martin's Horse Climbed Into Mr. Brent Jones' Buggy.

Quite a little excitement was caused last night when a horse driven by Mr. Arthur Martin attempted to climb into a light buggy driven by Mr. Brent Jones at Seventh and Broadway. It seems that Mr. Jones attempted to turn in front of the other horse and in doing so got in the way and Mr. Martin was unable to stop and avoid an accident. The horse driven by Mr. Martin apparently, to the bystanders, climbed in the rear of the Jones' buggy throwing Mr. Jones out in such a position that the buggy ran over him. No damage was done outside of a few bruises sustained by Mr. Jones.

County School Trustees are to be Elected the First Saturday in Oct.

Today County School Supt. A. M. Ragsdale began sending out notices of election of trustees in each school district. The election is to be held on the first Saturday in October from 1 to 6 o'clock.

There are three school trustees in each district and they are elected for a term of three years. Each year one trustee's term expires and consequently there is but one trustee in each district to elect except possibly where a vacancy from death or a resignation occurs.

Supt. Ragsdale had a great deal of trouble with district No. 6 because of a judgment for $300 hanging over it. The trustees would not serve when appointed because they had to levy a special tax to satisfy the judgment. Finally three trustees were secured and levied the tax, which will be collected by Constable Jones, of Magisterial district No. 8, next July. There is one trustee in this district to elect and even if one refused to run or if elected to serve, Supt. Ragsdale thinks the district can be run with only two.

The school house in district No. 25 has been moved and will be ready for service Monday a week.

Prof. J. G. Miller has been secured to teach this school and will open the first Monday in October which will be the second day of the month. This is a big district and much time was lost last year because of a wrangle over the location of the school house.

THE WEEK'S NEWS IN THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

Bank clearings for week, $606,895
Same week last year, 709,318

Business in Paducah is reported generally good, but is improving steadily and is expected to increase now that cool weather is here.

Jobbers report a revival, and wholesalers are beginning to feel the effect more of the resumption after the hot months, while retailers are enjoying their usual good business.

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, Sept. 23.—The tenor of jobbing trade and industrial advices is more unanimously favorable this week than at any preceding period this year. At the leading jobbing centers activity continues in all lines. Industry is active, iron and steel leading with larger sales and firmer prices in cruder forms heretofore inclined to sag. More is doing in coal and coke industries and prices are hardening. Building material, particularly timber, and hardware, still reflect unprecedented activity for this season of the year.

The balance of frost is still favorable feature in crop situation favoring as it does almost total exemption of corn from damage.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report.

Current trade shows distinct gain in comparison with same time last year; crop reports are reassuring and evidences of continued activity are noted in almost every department of industry. A wholesome growth, without threatening danger of reckless inflation of prices, is commercial conditions greatly to be desired and these elements are recorded in majority of dispatches. Fall trade is now well under way, especially encouraging results being achieved in dry goods, millinery, footwear and all lines of wearing apparel, while mercantile payments are unusually prompt for the season. Railway earnings thus far available for September exceed last year by 2.5 per cent. Foreign commerce at this port for the last week showed a gain of $52,846 imports, but a loss of $4,068,163 exports.

Bank Clearings.

New York, Sept. 23.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the past week are $2,514,652,759

To Build Electric Line.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 23.—The long-talked-of electric line between this city and Nortonville is now a certainty. This unqualified statement has been made public by W. C. Morton, who is president of the company which is promoting the enterprise.

Mr. Morton has returned from Louisville, where the profile was made and the work of construction will begin as soon as a franchise is granted by the city and a right-of-way secured.

Hopkinsville Tobacco Market.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 23.—Another dull week on the local tobacco market has ended. The inspectors' report shows very little activity, the receipts continuing light. Public sales have about ceased, either on the breaks or the loose flood, and the few hogsheds reported sold by the inspectors were private trades among dealers. The inspectors' weekly report of the Hopkinsville tobacco market follows:

Receipts for week	63
Receipts for year	9583

West Kentucky Coal Company's Improvements.

The Sturgis correspondent of the Henderson Gleaner says: Your correspondent is reliably informed that the West Kentucky Coal company is expecting three hundred laborers from the east to assist in the construction of their railroad and for anything else the company sees fit to put them at. This looks anything but a sign of a shut-down. There is going to be all kinds of work here and at the various other mines owned by the company and it is likely to be done by all kinds of people.

A man can afford to rejoice at his neighbor's good fortune—if it does not exceed his own.

MR. INGRAM HERE ABOUT CONTRACT

He is Willing to Start Work or Postpone it.

Is Disposed to Follow the Direction of the Board of Works, It Appears.

MATTER TO BE SETTLED SOON.

Mr. G. M. Ingram, of Nashville, president of the Southern Bitulithic Co., the firm which has the contract for building Kentucky avenue from Fourth to Ninth street, and Jefferson street from Fifth to Ninth, is in the city today in conference with the board of public works members City Engineer L. A. Washington and City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., relative to the street contract.

The board of public works asked the legislative boards to postpone starting rebuilding these two streets as far as the bitulithic contract is concerned, because the weather will soon be getting bad.

The legislative boards refused to extend time or order a postponement and ordered the work to go ahead. The board of aldermen, however, at the last meeting Thursday night, signified its willingness to extend the time if the contractors ask for the extension.

President Ingram came to the city to confer with municipal authorities to see just what is wanted and expected of him, and is willing to do what the people want him to do, he says.

"My firms hold a contract to rebuild these two streets and the contract was made with the board of public works, therefore my firm will naturally look to this board for instructions and orders," President Ingram explained to a reporter this morning. "We are willing to go ahead with the work or suspend it, whichever we are instructed to do. We have the contract and are willing to fulfill it."

Mr. Ingram talked with members of the board of works and Solicitor James Campbell this morning, but did not arrive at anything definite. There will probably be a meeting of the board of works called for this afternoon for the purpose of a conference, and City Solicitor Campbell will have a report to make.

When asked if his firm wanted an extension of time Mr. Ingram stated that he was acting solely on the orders and instructions of the board, but that winter time is the worst season to do this class of work and would work a hardship on many teamsters and merchants who had to ship goods to the depots. He talked as if the firm would prefer postponing the work until spring.

It is not improbable that this contract will eventually result in the board of works having its authority defined in the courts. In Louisville, Lexington, Covington and Newport the boards of works submit nothing to the legislative boards, it is claimed.

When a street is to be improved, the legislative boards or general council, pass the necessary ordinances and after they are passed the power, duty and authority of the legislative boards cease. The contract is awarded by the board of works, and the council has nothing to do with accepting or rejecting it. The council is not called on to consider anything connected with the work again until the bills for the work come in.

It is then compelled, if they are properly indorsed by the city engineer and others, to appropriate the money. If they should get stubborn and refuse to allow the money, they could be promptly mandamus'd. This is the way, it is said by some who have investigated it; that the boards of works in other second class cities in the state do things, while here the board seems to allow the council to run over it, "through courtesy." If it can be done that way there, it can probably be done that way here.

One reason that nothing has been done on these Kentucky avenue and Jefferson street improvements is that some of the property owners have been threatening to file injunction suits to prevent the work, and the contractors did not want to go the expense of getting men and equipment, and then possibly be stopped.

And the reason some of the property owners raised a kick was that after the city paid for storm water sewers on several downtown streets on which valuable property of various city officials is located, a different "construction" was placed on the law, and the same officials who allowed the city to pay for the storm water sewers along their property, a short time ago have since decided that the property owners should

THE RAILROADS Will Be Next to Be Prosecuted For Rebating.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—The prosecution of railroads for violations of the Elkins law relating to rebates will follow the conviction of four officials of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company for conspiracy to receive rebates in the conduct of the company's packing business. District Attorney Morrison made the announcement today that as the Elkins law makes no distinction in guilt between the party receiving a rebate and the one giving it, the government is now in a position to begin proceedings against the railroads mentioned in the indictment through a new investigation before another grand jury.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR TEACHER.

She Whipped a Child and Escaped Across the State Line.

THREE WENT INTO THE CELLAR
AND WERE OVERCOME.

Escaping Gas Causes a Tragedy at Muncie, Ind., Late Last Evening.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 23.—Two dead and two others not expected to live is the result of gas escaping in the cellar of the home of the Williams family here late yesterday afternoon.

The daughter, Maggie, 17 years old, went into the cellar to get something for supper. When she failed to return Mrs. Williams also went into the cellar to find the girl. Later the father, J. C. Williams, coming home and finding no one and noticing the cellar way open, also went down. The son, arriving home, and wondering at the disappearance of the family, proceeded to the cellar to investigate.

He found all three bodies lying on the floor.

He carried the father and mother up and returned for his sister when he fell upon the stairway. By this time some of the farm hands, whom he had called, came to the house and carried him and his sister from the stairway.

The mother and daughter are dead. The father and son are likely to die.

JUDGE REED

Will Have Others Select Persons to Take Prisoners to Reform School.

Judging from the remarks of Circuit Judge Reed from the bench this afternoon, the life of circuit judge is not without its trials and tribulations.

Jesse Stringer, a 14 year old colored boy who had raised drafts on the Paducah Cooperage Co., was brought into court and pleaded guilty to the charge. There was no jury, the jury having been dismissed, and by statutory law, the boy giving his consent, he was ordered taken to the reform school. When the question as to who should take him came up, Judge Reed made his few remarks.

He asked who wanted to take the boy, or rather who had the commonwealth agreed should take him. He said that the people had been running after him to take the boy and he wanted to shift the responsibility. He stated that hereafter he intended to shift the responsibility of appointment to take away such prisoners to the commonwealth and county attorney. Officer John Heslian, who arrested the boy, was appointed to take him.

Taking children to the reform school is one of the ways the state loses big money, as the officer who takes a person there gets about $75, which is several times more than the expenses.

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, Sept. 23.—The tenor of jobbing trade and industrial advice is more unanimously favorable this week than at any preceding period this year. At the leading jobbing centers activity continues in all lines. Industry is active, iron and steel leading with larger sales and firmer prices in cruder forms heretofore inclined to sag. More is doing in coal and coke industries and prices are hardening. Building material, particularly timber, and hardware, still reflect unprecedented activity for this season of the year.

The balance of frost is still favorable feature in crop situation favoring as it does almost total exemption of corn from damage.

R. G. Dun & Co., Report.

Current trade shows distinct gain in comparison with same time last year; crop reports are reassuring and evidences of continued activity are noted in almost every department of industry. A wholesome growth, without threatening danger of reckless inflation of prices, is commercial conditions greatly to be desired and these elements are recorded in majority of dispatches. Fall trade is now well under way, especially encouraging results being achieved in dry goods, millinery, footwear and all lines of wearing apparel, while mercantile payments are unusually prompt for the season. Railway earnings thus far available for September exceed last year by 2.5 per cent. Foreign commerce at this port for the last week showed a gain of $532,846 imports, but a loss of $4,068,163 exports.

Bank Clearings.

New York, Sept. 23.—Total bank clearings for the week are $2,514,652,759

To Build Electric Line.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 23.—The long-talked-of electric line between this city and Nortonville is now a certainty. This unqualified statement has been made public by W. C. Morton, who is president of the company which is promoting the enterprise.

Mr. Morton has returned from Louisville, where the profile was made and the work of construction will begin as soon as a franchise is granted by the city and a right-of-way secured.

Hopkinsville Tobacco Market.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 23.—Another dull week on the local tobacco market has ended. The inspectors' report shows very little activity, the receipts continuing light. Public sales have about ceased, either on the breaks or the loose floor, and the few hogsheads reported sold by the inspectors were private trades among dealers. The inspectors' weekly report of the Hopkinsville tobacco market follows:

Receipts for week	63
Receipts for year	9583

West Kentucky Coal Company's Improvements.

The Sturgis correspondent of the Henderson Gleaner says: Your correspondent is reliably informed that the West Kentucky Coal company is expecting three hundred laborers from the east to assist in the construction of their railroad and for anything else the company sees fit to put them at. This looks anything but a sign of a shut-down. There is going to be all kinds of work here and at the various other mines owned by the company and it is likely to be done by all kinds of people.

A man can afford to rejoice at his neighbor's good fortune—if it does not exceed his own.

MR. INGRAM HERE ABOUT CONTRACT

He is Willing to Start Work or Postpone it.

Is Disposed to Follow the Direction of the Board of Works, It Appears.

MATTER TO BE SETTLED SOON.

Mr. G. M. Ingram, of Nashville, president of the Southern Bitulithic Co., the firm which has the contract for building Kentucky avenue from Fourth to Ninth street, and Jefferson street from Fifth to Ninth, is in the city today in conference with the board of public works members City Engineer L. A. Washington and City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., relative to the street contract.

The board of public works asked the legislative boards to postpone starting rebuilding these two streets as far as the bitulithic contract is concerned, because the weather will soon be getting bad.

The legislative boards refused to extend time or order a postponement and ordered the work to go ahead. The board of aldermen, however, at the last meeting Thursday night, signified its willingness to extend the time if the contractors ask for the extension.

President Ingram came to the city to confer with municipal authorities to see just what is wanted and expected of him, and is willing to do what the people want him to do, he says.

"My firms hold a contract to rebuild these two streets and the contract was made with the board of public works, therefore my firm will naturally look to this board for instructions and orders," President Ingram explained to a reporter this morning. "We are willing to go ahead with the work or suspend it, whichever we are instructed to do. We have the contract and are willing to fulfill it."

Mr. Ingram talked with members of the board of works and Solicitor James Campbell this morning, but did not arrive at anything definite. There will probably be a meeting of the board of works called for this afternoon for the purpose of a conference, and City Solicitor Campbell will have a report to make.

When asked if his firm wanted an extension of time Mr. Ingram stated that he was acting solely on the orders and instructions of the board, but that winter time is the worst season to do this class of work and would work a hardship on many teamsters and merchants who had to ship goods to the depots. He talked as if the firm would prefer postponing the work until spring.

It is not improbable that this contract will eventually result in the board of works having its authority defined in the courts. In Louisville, Lexington, Covington and Newport the boards of works submit nothing to the legislative boards, it is claimed. When a street is to be improved, the legislative boards or general council, pass the necessary ordinances and after they are passed the power, duty and authority of the legislative boards cease. The contract is awarded by the board of works, and the council has nothing to do with accepting or rejecting it. The council is not called on to consider anything connected with the work again until the bills for the work come in. It is then compelled, if they are properly indorsed by the city engineer and others, to appropriate the money. If they should get stubborn and refuse to allow the money, they could be promptly mandamus.

This is the way, it is said by some who have investigated it; that the boards of works in other second class cities in the state do things, while here the board seems to allow the council to run over it, "through courtesy." If it can be done that way there, it can probably be done that way here.

One reason that nothing has been done on these Kentucky avenue and Jefferson street improvements is that some of the property owners have been threatening to file injunction suits to prevent the work, and the contractors did not want to go the expense of getting men and equipment, and then possibly be stopped.

And the reason some of the property owners raised a kick was that after the city paid for storm water sewers on several downtown streets on which valuable property of various city officials is located, a different "construction" was placed on the law, and the same officials who allowed the city to pay for the storm water sewers along their property, a short time ago have since decided that the property owners should

THE RAILROADS Will Be Next to Be Prosecuted For Rebating.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—The prosecution of railroads for violations of the Elkins law relating to rebates will follow the conviction of four officials of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company for conspiracy to receive rebates in the conduct of the company's packing business. District Attorney Morrison made the announcement today that as the Elkins law makes no distinction in guilt between the party receiving a rebate and the one giving it, the government is now in a position to begin proceedings against the railroads mentioned in the indictment through a new investigation before another grand jury.

THREE DIE

THREE WENT INTO THE CELLAR AND WERE OVERCOME.

Escaping Gas Causes a Tragedy at Muncie, Ind., Late Last Evening.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 23.—Two dead and two others not expected to live is the result of gas escaping in the cellar of the home of the Williams family here late yesterday afternoon. The daughter, Maggie, 17 years old, went into the cellar to get something for supper. When she failed to return Mrs. Williams also went into the cellar to find the girl. Later the father, J. C. Williams, coming home and finding no one and noticing the cellar way open, also went down. The son, arriving home, and wondering at the disappearance of the family, proceeded to the cellar to investigate.

He found all three bodies lying on the floor. He carried the father and mother up and returned for his sister when he fell upon the stairway. By this time some of the farm hands, whom he had called, came to the house and carried him and his sister from the stairway. The mother and daughter are dead the father and son are likely to die.

JUDGE REED

Will Have Others Select Persons to Take Prisoners to Reform School.

Judging from the remarks of Circuit Judge Reed from the bench this afternoon, the life of circuit judge is not without its trials and tribulations.

Jesse Stringer, a 14 year old colored boy who had raised drafts on the Paducah Cooperage Co., was brought into court and pleaded guilty to the charge. There was no jury, the jury having been dismissed, and by statutory law, the boy giving his consent, he was ordered taken to the reform school. When the question as to who should take him came up, Judge Reed made his few remarks.

He asked who wanted to take the boy, or rather who had the commonwealth agreed should take him. He said that the people had been running after him to take the boy and he wanted to shift the responsibility. He stated that hereafter he intended to shift the responsibility of appointment to take away such prisoners to the commonwealth and county attorney. Officer John Heslian, who arrested the boy, was appointed to take him.

Taking children to the reform school is one of the ways the state loses big money, as the officer who takes a person there gets about $75, which is several times more than the expenses.

New York, Sept. 23.—The tobacco trust is said to have obtained control of the licorice supply of the world. The trust sent agents into the tropical countries where the root grows, and contracted with the planters, who supply the market.

THE SECOND WEEK SHOWS INCREASE

Attendance in Public Schools is Quite Satisfactory.

The Overflows Are Principally Grades—The Teachers' Meetings Held.

SANITATION LOOKED AFTER.

Friday afternoon the public schools closed the second week of the fall term with a better attendance than was expected—much better than the teachers in the primary departments wanted to see.

"The attendance in the primary department has been steady and with the overflow of pupils in some districts the teachers cannot do the best of work," Supt. Leib stated this morning. "This condition is likely to exist until the very cold weather sets in, and then there will be a perceptible falling off of attendance in the primary department. We would rather have the little ones come the season through, however, and will do the best we can rather than see them fall out. If parents would only look towards their children's education, it would be better for all concerned. In the extreme cold season mothers will not let their children come to school but will hold them out until spring sets in and then start them in again. By this time the work in this department is pretty far advanced and the pupils who come in late cannot receive the benefit of the work already been done. Maybe the Monday the mother expects to start her child in will be rainy and she will defer action and wait until the next Monday, preferring to start the child in at the first of the week. This causes an overflow in the spring and if parents would only send their children to school regularly, even if they had to bundle them up and take them in person, better benefits would be derived all around. This is one source of regret to school workers as the little folks should receive every advantage of unbroken instruction, that they may be better prepared to enter the higher grades."

Yesterday afternoon the general teachers' meeting was held and the course of study adopted for the term. Instead of a literary course "McMurray's Method of Recitation," was adopted. Some teachers preferred the literary course, but the majority won out.

Grade meetings followed the literary meeting and the teachers compared work and reported progress. The first few weeks of school are always rather tedious to the instructors, but a great deal of interest is being shown by the pupils and everything points to a most successful year.

The board of health committee, appointed to look after sanitation, is keeping close tab on the condition of sanitation about the schools, and as a result the buildings are being placed in the best sanitary condition possible. The schools where connected with the sanitary sewers are harder to keep in condition than the surface closets, but the janitors have been given a sound "jacking up" and very little trouble is expected from this source again. It will be the duty of the janitor and principal of each school hereafter to inspect daily and report any defect in the working of the plumbing and in the sanitary condition of the schools.

The High school departments show an increase in enrollment this week. The department started out with about 125 pupils, but this has been swelled to 130 and by the end of the month Principal Payne expects to have 140 enrolled. This is the smallest High school in several years.

K. I. T. League Meeting Tomorrow. President Charles Brown, of the K. I. T. League, leaves today for Vincennes, Ind., to attend the final meeting tomorrow of the league for the year. President Gus Thompson, of the Paducah Association, will probably also attend. The affairs of the league will be wound up at the meeting and the pennant awarded Paducah will claim the pennant, as the Indians won it fairly. The pennant, it will be claimed, despite any agreement that may have been made to gamble it away, should go to the club that won the most games, which was Paducah.

A metropolis is a town of so much importance it no longer has to brag about it.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

ALLEGED MURDERER.

Walter McClain Caught Here By Mayfield Officers Late Yesterday.

Walter McClain, a young Graves county man, was arrested here yesterday afternoon at the Fondaw home near 12th and Burnett streets, for a double killing near Lynville, Graves county, about a year ago. Sheriff Harris and deputy, from Mayfield, made the arrest.

McClain stated that he had been west since the killing and spent several months in St. Louis, coming here about a month ago and staying with his cousin, Conductor Flipo, of the street car company.

The killing created great excitement at the time. A man named Kinder and McClain's brother had trouble over McClain, who was drunk. A shooting followed in which both Kinder and the younger McClain were killed. The McClain who was intoxicated escaped, and it was generally believed that he killed both men, some thought his brother by accident, while shooting at the other man. McClain, upon being arrested yesterday, declared that he killed only one of the men, Kinder. He said Kinder and his brother had a fight and Kinder killed his brother, and in trying to protect him, he killed Kinder.

McClain was taken directly to the depot and to Mayfield. A reward of $200 was offered by the governor for his arrest only a few days ago at the request of the Graves county authorities.

MUCH SPECULATION.

In Regard to the Import as to Patent Medicine Ruling.

Several days ago the ruling of the government revenue officials in regard to certain patent medicines containing alcohol, holding that a government license has to be taken out for spirituous, vinous and malt liquors, was sent out from Washington. In many cities it has stirred up quite a contention among druggists, and may sooner or later come up for consideration in Paducah.

Most druggists have a government license to sell liquor, which covers the case, but those who have not will now have to take out a government license or stop handling certain brands of patent medicines. This is not all, it is being held by the attorneys in some cities that the druggist will have to have a city liquor license also. If this were true here, the druggist in order to sell certain kinds of patent medicine would have to take out a government liquor license, which most of them already have, and then a regular saloon license to keep from violating the city ordinances against selling such liquors without a license. It is not known what the position of local officials will be on the subject.

The Week In Society.

Autumn, the season of plenty, seems to be fulfilling its prophecies to the uttermost. There are to be plenty of entertainments and amusements for the coming month. Paducah will don her gala attire, will dine and be merry, and will rejoice while the good things last and judging from the bookings at present, it looks as if the gaudies and pleasures will quite fill the calendar for a great while.

On Monday night, the carnival given by Paducah's Traveling Men's Association will open its gates with a triumphant flourish, it will not only be the playground of jolly good fellows but it will have a social side also. The American Inn is to be quite a feature of the week, matrons and maids will lend their presence to this unique and delightful place.

This concession is to divide profits with the Charity club, therefore great interest is being shown in this brilliant idea.

On each day a number of matrons and the young society women will preside at the "Inn." Soft drinks, sandwiches and oysters will be served.

The Kentucky theater, always a source of pleasure to Paducah people, will be formally opened for the season, on Monday evening with a musical comedy, "The Rajah of Bhong." This will be one of the notable events of the week. Later the "Horse Show," the initial club meetings for the season and it is whispered several weddings besides many entertainments of a delightful nature.

PROF. ST. CLAIR.

Is Appointed State Medical Examiner by Board of Health.

Prof. W. T. St. Clair, head of the Department of Latin at the Male High school at Louisville, has been appointed state medical examiner by the state board of health under the law passed by the legislature in 1904 requiring that those who enter the medical schools of Kentucky shall be required to have an education corresponding to that provided by a first class high school. Prof. St. Clair was the unanimous choice of the board of health.

The position is of great importance nearly 500 students entering the medical schools of the state each year Kentucky State College, Lexington, is preparing to establish that branch and a new school will also be opened in Paducah. Every student is required either to present credentials to Prof. St. Clair, showing the character of the work he has pursued, or to stand an examination. Heretofore entrance could be had upon a common school education, and as a result the diplomas of graduates of the local schools were not recognized by medical boards of other states. Latin, physics and chemistry are now among the subjects required for entrance, and it is believed that the new requirements will have the effect of giving Louisville institutions higher standing abroad.

One of the holdest and most business like changes known to the advertising and business circles of today, is that recently made by the National Toilet company of Paris, Tennessee.

It appears that there were one or two articles on the market with names so much like Satinola as to be liable to cause confusion in the minds of the purchaser. Satinola had won a national reputation as a remover of pimples, freckles, etc., and as a complexion beautifier, therefore its sterling manufacturers knew that they could not take any chances on the confusion, and at one bold stroke retired the word Satinola for Nadinola.

That the new name "Nadinola" will soon become popular, and a favorite beautifier with the ladies is evidenced by the numerous endorsements from grateful women in nearly every state in the Union; who have tested the virtue of this valuable preparation.

Daily Thought.

Self distrust is the cause of most of our failures. In the assurance of strength there is strength, and they are the weakest, however strong, who have no faith in themselves or their powers.—Bovee.

THE USUAL MISREPRESENTATION.

The Owensboro Messenger says: "The hollow mockery of the Roosevelt prosecution of the beef trust came out at Chicago yesterday. After months and years of delay the beef trust magnates were finally indicted and after further months of delay some of them were called for trial. Now four of them are allowed to confess fines but the imprisonment portion of the penalty is waived by the consent of the attorney general. * * * These beef trust people, who by conspiracy have been for years holding up the meat-eating public with exorbitant prices, can well afford to pay an occasional fine of $5,000 or $10,000 and will gladly do it for the privilege of continuing to violate a criminal law. Such an arrangement with Roosevelt's attorney general will be quite to their liking. They are making millions by their hold-up process. A little fine now and then will be regarded simply as a license to continue in crime."

In thus alluding to the case the Messenger is inspired by either ignorance or malice. The fines assessed at Chicago have nothing to do with the prosecutions of the packers for violation of the anti-trust law, which are expected to come to trial within a few days. The fines were for accepting rebates from railroads, nothing more and nothing less. The packers may be guilty of violating the anti-trust law, or they may not be. If they are, it is safe to predict that the federal authorities will spare nothing to make them suffer for it. To attempt to deceive readers into thinking those fines imposed at Chicago were under the anti-trust indictments, with a view to discrediting the government, does not appear to be very creditable journalism.

Mr. Thomas Taggart, chairman of the democratic national committee, says that he nor any of the committee members solicited funds from corporations for the last presidential campaign. Perhaps not. Perhaps he doesn't know. At any rate, Mr. Taggart knows nothing about what anyone did except himself. He was not with the other members of the committee, the secretaries, managers and what-not all the time, consequently when he assumes to know what they did or didn't, he assumes something unreasonable. President McCall, of the New York Life, says that he was importuned for funds by the democrats. He could doubtless give the names of those who approached him if he wanted to. He has said the democrats solicited funds for the campaign, and that should be sufficient. When he said he gave $48,000 to the republican campaign fund, the truth of his statement was not questioned by the democrats. Why should they become so indignantly incredulous when he now says the democrats harassed him in their fruitless quest for money?

Those who often ask, "What becomes of the city's money?" are asked to respectfully consider this one little instance: The city solicitor recently resigned. He waited until several days after it was too late to put up candidates for election this fall, and enabled the mayor to appoint his son-in-law. The former solicitor may not have done it intentionally, but he did it nevertheless. The mayor's son-in-law now finds that in one case he cannot discharge his public duties, and it is naturally suggested that the city pay some outside lawyer to do it. When an outside lawyer is sought, it is natural that the former solicitor, who enabled the mayor to appoint his son-in-law, should be thought of. He was thought of, and it is now proposed to pay him $100 of the people's money to prosecute the case, and judging from the circumstances and from the well known disposition of Paducah's legislative boards, he will get the job, as the matter has been referred to a committee composed of four of the mayor's friends and two republicans. This, good people, is one of the many ways the money goes.

Admiral Dewey is one of those who know, and he favors a larger navy. He is quoted in an interview as saying in regard to what the navy needs: "More big ships, more big guns and good shooting. The American navy needs, more than anything else, battleships of 18,000 tons, carrying 12-inch guns, with a few 3-pounders for the defense against torpedo attacks. It is the big ships, such as the English are building, and the big guns that decide the battle. I was utterly surprised at the accuracy of the Japanese gunners, and more so by the wonderful control that Admiral Togo had over his forces."

So the mayor wants an ordinance providing for uniform streets and sidewalks! When did he experience such a change of heart? Not long ago he advocated allowing property owners to have either brick or concrete sidewalks—and in front of some of his downtown property he put down brick. We believe now, as we did then, that all sidewalks should be alike, and should be of concrete. But the mayor—does he now want to deny others a privilege he himself enjoyed?

The old line insurance companies have withstood the bolts administered to them with admirable fortitude thus far, but their finish is now in sight. Gov. Vardaman, of Mississippi, has surrendered his policy, and in the words of the telegram, denounced the company as follows: "I do not care to contribute any more to the gayety of that crowd of robbers, thieves and marauders who seem to infest the insurance business in New York." The companies might as well quit business now.

Cincinnati Day at the state fair was a "frost." The cold-blooded sharks of the Queen City were invited to partake of Lexington's hospitality on "Cincinnati Day," and they sent word back that they "were not booming Lexington, but Cincinnati,"—and stood at home. As a result Lexington merchants have sworn vengeance, and will hereafter do their buying in Kentucky, where they ought to have done it all the time.

Republicans and other good citizens who desire to have public business conducted in an economical, business-like manner in Paducah, should begin thinking about the ticket that the republicans are to put out next month. Conditions fully justify a change and preparations should begin to get it.

FLIPPER NUISANCE

Must Stop Immediately—Police Now Arresting the Boys.

The authorities are intent on breaking up the flipper shooting which has been going on in the city since school opened two weeks ago, and two arrests have resulted.

Bee Howard and Harry Swift, two small boys, were arrested for shooting flippers on the streets and arraigned in police court this morning. They were fined $5 and costs each and the judgment suspended during their good behavior. If the boys are caught misbehaving by next Saturday, they will be arrested again and the judgment carried into force.

Walter Rowark, white, was arraigned for beating his wife and the case continued. He is watchman at the Lack Singletree Co., and claims he was at work when the alleged beating took place.

Other cases were: Frank Chatham, colored, drunk and disorderly, $10 and costs; Lucien Blank, white, drunkenness, $1 and costs.

AFTER A PROWLER.

Residents of the North Side Will Get Warrants.

Residents in the vicinity of Seventh and Campbell streets complained at police headquarters last night of the actions of a negro boy about 15 years of age, who is alleged to have been prowling about the houses for sometime. One family reported that the boy entered the front door and started to go into a room where several girls were sleeping but knocked glassware off a shelf or table and was frightened away. The boy was recognized and the police notified the residents to procure warrants which they said they would do.

To the Good People of Paducah.

I have this day taken a new lease on Richmond house and will remain in business indefinitely. Up to today at noon. I have fed and entertained in your city in my life 119,276 transient people. My transient list runs from forty to sixty guests a day. Now this plainly shows you who is doing the hotel business in Paducah. Can furnish you nice room and board at $5 per week with a guarantee that we will give you satisfaction or it won't cost you anything. Remember we run the New Richmond house under a strict guarantee that it is the best and finest one dollar a day house in the United States. Come down and look at our register and compare it with any hotel in Paducah and see who is doing the hotel business of Paducah. Respectfully your friend,

THE GRAND JURY MADE FINAL REPORT

The September Term of Circuit Court Finally Adjourns.

Last Batch of Indictments Not Given Out—Many Cases Have Been Tried.

JUDGE REED MAKES RECORD.

Today the September term of criminal circuit court ended with the discharge of the grand jury at 11:30 o'clock. The term has been an eventful one, three alleged murderers having been tried and convicted and twenty-three other felony cases disposed of. The grand jury did good work, although it was a little slow in getting into the business. Judge Reed dispatched business with his characteristic promptness, and frequently adjourned court before noon, finishing business for the day in the morning where formerly court dragged and cases set for one day were not reached before the expiration of a week.

The grand jury at 11:30 o'clock reported its last bunch of indictments and was discharged. All court allowances, to Judge Sanders, attorneys, the police department and to other court officers, were made and court ordered finally adjourned at 11:45 o'clock.

This morning an order was filed in the case of P. H. Stewart, administrator of H. H. Hobson, against E. W. Hobson and other heirs of the deceased, ordering the master commissioner to pay over to A. Y. Martin, trustee in the bankrupt matter of John B. Hobson, one of the heirs, the latter's interest in the estate to date. The interest amounted to $2,079.14 and was paid over. Hobson took the bankrupt law and gave in liabilities amounting to something like $3,000. The interest in his father's estate will not cover the indebtedness unless some of the claims listed are disallowed. The money paid over will be distributed among Hobson's creditors.

The suit of Thomas Evitts against Mayor Yeiser and the board of aldermen was dismissed without prejudice. This is the suit where a temporary writ of prohibition was issued to keep the board from trying City Jailer Evitts on impeachment charges. The writ was taken out to prevent the board acting. The grand jury returned indictments against Evitts.

In the case of the Register Newspaper Co. against Joseph L. Friedman and I. Nahm, the mandate from the court of appeals confirming the $1,500 judgment was filed, and the circuit court allowed a $150 judgment, $105 damages on the judgment. This makes a total of $1,650 the defendants will have to pay.

The grand jury returned the minutes of the examining court in the three cases against Gus Armstrong, colored, charged with maliciously shooting at Earl McCoy, Nelson Jenkins and Lula Simms, marked "dismissed."

Judgment for divorce was filed in the case of H. G. Adams against Albert L. Adams.

It is understood that the grand jury indicted the officers and directors of the Home Purchasing company for doing business in the state without a license. There will be vigorous prosecution against everyone connected with the concern, it is understood, but it will be in the federal court, when it meets in November.

The grand jury reported seventeen indictments this morning before it

Married in Kuttawa.
The Kuttawa Times of yesterday says:

"On Monday afternoon, at the home of W. W. Butt in this city, Mr. Otto Cash and Miss Myrtle Soden were united in marriage by Rev. Campbell, of the Methodist church."

"Mr. Cash is an old Lyon county boy, being a son of Jas. Cash and a nephew of Sam Cash, the democratic candidate for sheriff, but for the past three years has resided in Paducah where he has a position in the I. C. railroad shops. Mr. Cash is an industrious young man of good habits and is well respected in communities where he is known."

"The bride is a niece of the Soden boys, who reside about a mile from town, and with whom she and her sister have made their home since childhood. She is a young lady of many admirable qualities and has scores of friends both here and in the country who bid her God-speed."

"Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for the home of the groom's father, where they remained until yesterday afternoon, when they returned to this city and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Withers, who gave a reception in their honor. They leave today for Paducah, where they will make their future home."

A Pleasant Entertainment.

Mrs. Ed Deloach entertained the ladies of Magnolia and Evergreen, Woodmen Circle, Wednesday afternoon, at her residence, 1024 South Fourth street, from 2 till 6. The house was prettily decorated in flowers and lodge colors, green and purple. Cards and contests afforded amusement for the afternoon. Most important of these was the peanut contest. First prize was given Mrs. Ward, while Mrs. F. N. Reynolds guest of honor, captured the bobby. All repaired to the dining room at 4 where ices and fruits were served. Here the color scheme was carried out in the table decorations and ices. Those present were: Mesdames F. N. Reynolds, J. Calloway, Cummings Kyle, M. Kettler, T. Kettler, F. Murray, S. D. Lowe, of Ft. Scott; M. Iseman, C. Etter, Hays, W. E. Spence, Alexander, Williams, Friant Reed, Roeder, Brachli, Fields, Woodridge, T. Vogt, C. Vogt, Mitchell, Gideon, Hughes, B. A Tennis Tournament.

Now that fall is here tennis is undergoing a revival in the city. The many courts of the city are crowded every evening with players and spectators. Several good matches have already been played on the Y. M. C. A. courts on Kentucky avenue and plans are on foot to hold a fall tournament in tennis. There were very few players in the city two years ago, but now the game is interesting many of both the young and the old people.

Many of the society ladies may be seen early of a morning on the courts playing with all the vim of "tennis fiends."

The Football Season.

The high school football team is getting fine practice every evening under the coaching of Mr. Ben Frank and will soon be able to make a creditable appearance in football tactics. All the preliminary stages of the game have been gone through with and in a few days skirmish practice will begin. Coach Frank says that he has winning material this year and that other teams will have to do "stunts" to win from the P. H. S.

SAYS HE WAS ROBBED.

The Ackerman Claimed Women Got $7.50 From Him.

The Ackerman, the second-hand dealer, rushed into the city hall about 11 o'clock last night and declared he had been held up and robbed of $7.50 by two women on Lower Kentucky avenue, and wanted a certain place closed up by the police, he thinking the women had come out of the restaurant.

Ackerman was in a high state of excitement and his shirt was torn, and he bore the appearance of having been roughly handled. He claims the women assaulted him on the pavement when the street was deserted, grabbed him by the arms and while one held him fast, the other relieved him of his money.

He failed to give a description of the women and the police have no clue on which to work.

MAY NOW TRY EVITTS.

The Injunction Suit Was Dismissed by the Plaintiffs Today.

The board of aldermen is now free to resume its investigation of the charges filed against City Jailor Tom Evitts. In the midst of the trial the aldermen were restrained from further proceedings by an injunction. This was several weeks ago.

At the time the attorneys for the city jailor should have made a motion to make the temporary restraining order permanent they overlooked it, and the attorneys for the city promptly made a motion to dismiss Judge Reed was to have passed on this motion, when the attorneys for Evitts today dismissed the injunction themselves, and the aldermen may now resume the trial.
No arrangements have yet been made to do so, however.

CHICKEN THIEF

Shot at by Mr. A. W. Shepherd, But Missed.

Mr. A. W. Shepherd, of Twelfth and Kentucky avenue, had an exciting experience with a burglar last night.

He heard a noise about his house and thinking someone was trying to gain entrance procured his pistol and went out to investigate. He found someone cutting a hole in his chicken house. One fowl had been secured from the house when Mr. Shepherd made his appearance.

The thief began running and in his flight dropped the chicken. Mr. Shepherd shot once, but the flying form was too far away and the bullet flew harmlessly by. Mr. Shepherd does not think he can identify the man, but believes him to be a negro.

LIVING PARASITE KEPT AS TROPHY

AFFLICTED MAN PRESENTS EVIDENCE OF HIS TRIUMPH OVER SICKNESS.

CROWDS ARE INCREASING.

Continued interest marks the visit of Payne. Another evidence of the remarkable powers of Payne's New Discovery Remedies came to light yesterday morning at Smith & Nagel's drug store.

Mr. H. R. Ridgway, a representative of Hirsch Bros. and Co., Louisville, Ky., called on Payne and produced a jar containing a monster tape-worm over 70 feet in length.

It was complete, head, neck and all, and was expelled from Mr. Ridgway's system after having used only four doses of Payne's New Discovery. Mr. Ridgway told the following concerning his troubles:

"I have suffered for a very long time with stomach and kidney troubles, dizzy sensations, severe pains in the back in the region of the kidneys, and pains between the shoulder blades, high colored urine, oftentimes compelled to get up three or four times a night to get it off. After eating, my food laid heavy on my stomach which would swell and bloat, producing a gripping sensation and pains in the stomach. I grew weaker and thinner each day.

I spent hundreds of dollars trying to be cured but grew worse from day to day. It seemed that death could be my only relief. I was induced to call on Payne and did so. After taking only four doses of the New Discovery I passed this worm which measures over 70 feet in length. I feel that my life has been saved and I must thank Payne's Remedies for it."

This immense parasite was left at Smith & Nagel's drug store Fourth and Broadway and can be seen by all who call. Payne is always glad to meet all who call between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

THE COMING WEEK AT THE KENTUCKY

Monday—"The Rajah of Bhong," and dance, is very much in evidence. Friday and Saturday, Wills Comedy Co., with matinee Saturday.

Manager Roberts announces the opening of the regular theatrical season at The Kentucky Monday night, September 25th, with "The Rajah of Bhong," as the attraction.

Mr. Roberts has had a good deal of trouble in getting the character of attraction for his opening he wanted on account of most all of the better attractions being compelled to cancel all Southern dates owing to the quarantine restrictions, and made a special trip to Chicago a few weeks ago to seek something, with the result that he booked "The Rajah."

From the press reports, it is one of the best musical shows on the road, which is saying a good deal, as there seems to be nothing else that appeals to the public taste just now, and there is a host of them.

The company presenting "The Rajah of Bhong" contains many well-known funmakers and vocalists, and no better vehicle for their efforts to entertain could have been secured.

The comedy element predominates the action of the piece from beginning to end and as every male member of the cast is a comedian, fun fast and furious is the natural result. "A laugh in every line" is not an exaggeration in this instance, but the humor is natural and entirely free from the coarseness which sometimes mars productions of the musical comedy class.

The female contingent made up of pretty girls who know how to sing and dance, is very much in evidence. The costumes worn by the chorus are gorgeous in the extreme, and the management claims that it is the most expensively dressed production ever presented.

Manager Roberts has put his handsome little play house in "apple pie order." It has been repainted and frescoed, all the draperies and carpets brightened up, until the house looks as pretty today as it did the day it was opened.

Commenting on the Wills Comedy company which comes to the Kentucky Friday for the balance of the week, with matinee Saturday, the Post-Dispatch, of St. Louis, says:

The largest crowd that has attended Suburban Garden within the past four years tested the capacity of this resort last Sunday. With favorable weather even larger crowds are expected today, to witness the opening performance of the Wills Musical Comedy company in their successful musical extravaganza, "Sweet Sixteen." This piece has always been the feature of the large repertoire of plays carried by this organization and on account of its catchy title, has always been a particular favorite among the ladies. Alvora (a female impersonator), appears in another one of his impersonations, and introduces a "fire mirror dance," giving a clever imitation of the famous La-Lole Fuller. De Moyer and Ward, lately of the "Four Cohans Company," have joined this company and begin their engagement this afternoon, presenting a clever specialty act. Mr. James Leslie, John B. Adams, all play important parts in this piece, which gives them a good opportunity to wear several beautiful costumes.

Little boys who throw stones grow up and become critics. Why does patience invariably choose a monument to roost on?

Thos. W. Roberts, Manager The Kentucky.

METROPOLIS NEWS

POPULAR YOUNG MAN WEDS A YOUNG LADY OF MAYFIELD.

Hugh Edwards, Aged 18, Is Dead—Colored Man In Serious Trouble.

Metropolis, Ill., Sept. 23.—Wednesday evening Mr. Theodore Barrett surprised his friends here by getting married to Miss Effie Emerson, of Mayfield, Ky. Mr. Barrett is a valued employee of the Bending Co. and has many friends, while his bride is a popular young lady of her city. They will reside in this city.

Hugh Edwards, son of Mrs. Catherine M. Henderson, of East Metropolis, died at the family home Thursday at 9 o'clock of congestion of the stomach and brain. The boy was 13 years of age, and leaves six sisters and three brothers. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the U. B. church by Rev. Spencer of the Baptist church.

Eli Blythe, a colored man about 19 years of age, was jailed here Friday for abusive talk to John Edwards and for threatening Mrs. Edwards with an axe. The trouble arose over a remark made by Mr. Edwards charging some of Blythe's relatives with stealing hay. Judge Oakes imposed a fine of $25 on Bly which he was unable to pay and so stands committed to jail indefinitely.

Mrs. Lilly Spence, of Rogers, Ark., formerly Mrs. Ben Stewart of this town, is visiting with Thomas W. Patterson and wife and other friends here.

Fred Kraper, of Logan precinct, who was recently married was in Metropolis Friday buying building material for a handsome new dwelling to be erected at once. It will be modern in every particular, having porches, bath room, closets, etc., and will be indeed a fitting nest for his bride.

Mrs. Fred'k Horstman, of East Washington precinct, died at the family residence on Wednesday of dropsy, aged 70 years. She leaves an aged husband, a number of sons and daughters. The family is one of the oldest of the German element in Massac county and are worthy citizens. Funeral services were held at St. Stephen's church Friday, by Rev. John Goes.

A COSTUME PIECE

No. 2 of the Series

"That's it," he whispered savagely: "tell all the neighborhood—give me away at the top of your voice."

With that he turned his back upon me and shuffled down the road, shrugging his shoulders and muttering to himself as though I had refused him alms. A few moments I stood astounded, indignant, at a loss; then I followed him. His feet trotted, his knees gave, his back was bowed, his head kept nodding; it was the gait of a man eighty years of age. Presently he waited for me midway between two lamp posts. As I came up he was lighting rank tobacco in a cutty pipe with an evil smelling match, and the flames showed me the suspicion of a smile.

"You must forgive my heat, Bunny, but it really was very foolish of you. Here am I trying every dodge—begging at the door one night, hiding in the shrubs the next—doing every mortal thing but stand and stare at the house as you went and did. It's a costume piece, and in you rush in your ordinary clothes. I tell you they're on the lookout for us night and day. It's the toughest nut I ever tackled."

"Well," said I, "if you had told me so before I shouldn't have come. You told me nothing."

He looked hard at me from under the broken brim of a battered billy-cock.

"You're right," he said at length. "I've been too close. It's become second nature with me when I've anything on, but here's an end of it, Bunny, so far as you're concerned. I'm going home now, and I want you to follow me, but for heaven's sake keep your distance and don't speak to me again until I speak to you. There—give me a start." And he was off again, a decrepit vagabond, with his hands in his pockets, his elbow square and frayed coat tails swinging raggedly from side to side.

I followed him to the Finchley road. There he took an Atlas omnibus, and I sat some rows behind him on the top, but not far enough to escape the pest of his vile tobacco. That he could carry his character sketch to such a pitch—he who would only smoke one brand of cigarettes! It was the last least touch of the insatiable artist, and it charmed away what mortification there still remained in me. Once more I felt the fascination of a comrade who was forever dazzling one with a fresh and unsuspected facet of his character.

As we neared Piccadilly I wondered what he would do. Surely he was not going into the Albany like that? No, he took another omnibus to Sloane street, I sitting behind him, as before. At Sloane street we changed again, and were presently in the long lean artery of the King's road. I was now all agog to know our destination, nor was I kept many more minutes in doubt. Raffles got down. I followed. He crossed the road and disappeared under a dark turning. I pressed after him and was in time to see his coat tails as he plunged into a still darker alley to the right. He was holding himself up and stepping out like a young man once more; also, in some subtle way, he already looked less disreputable. But I alone was there to see him—the alley was absolutely deserted and desperately dark. At the farther end he opened a door with a latchkey, and it was darker yet within.

Instinctively I drew back and heard him chuckle. We could no longer see each other.

"All right, Bunny! There's no hanky panky this time. These are studios, my friend, and I'm one of the lawful tenants."

Indeed, in another minute we were in a lofty room with skylight, easels, dressing cupboard, platform and every other adjunct save the signs of actual labor. The first thing I saw, as Raffles lit the gas, was his reflection in his silk hat on the pegs beside the rest of his normal garments.

"Looking for the works of art?" continued Raffles, lighting a cigarette and beginning to divest himself of his rags. "I'm afraid you won't find any, but there's the canvas I'm always going to make a start upon. I tell you I'm looking high and low for my ideal model. I have the stove lit on principle twice a week, and look in and leave a newspaper and a smell of Sullivan—how good they are after shag! Meanwhile I pay my rent and am a good tenant in every way, and it's a very useful little pied-a-terre. There's no saying how useful it might be at a pinch. As it is, the billycock comes in and the topped goes out, and nobody takes the slightest notice of either. At this time of night the chances are that there's not a soul in the building except ourselves."

"You never told me you went in for disguises," said I, watching him as he cleaned the grime from his face and hands.

"No, Bunny, I've treated you very shabbily all around. There was really no reason why I shouldn't have shown you this place a month ago, and yet there was no point in my doing so, and circumstances are just conceivable in which it would have suited us both for you to be in genuine ignorance of my whereabouts. I have something to sleep on, as you perceive, in case of need, and of course my name is not Raffles in the King's road. So you will see that one might loiter farther and fare worse."

"Meanwhile you use the place as a dressing room?"

"It's my private pavilion," said Raffles. "Disguises? In some cases they are half the battle, and it's always pleasant to feel that if the worst comes to the worst you haven't necessarily been convicted under your own name. Then they're indispensable in dealing with the fences. I drive all my bargains in the tongue and raiment of Shoreditch. If I didn't there'd be the very devil to pay in blackmail. Now, this cupboard's full of all sorts of togery. I tell the woman who cleans the room that it's for my models when I find 'em. By the way, I only hope I've got something that'll fit you, for you'll want a rig for tomorrow night."

"Tomorrow night?" I exclaimed.

"Why, what do you mean to do?"

"The trick," said Raffles. "I intended writing to you as soon as I got back to my rooms to ask you to look me up tomorrow afternoon. Then I was going to unfold my plan of campaign and take you straight into action then and there. There's nothing like putting the nervous players in first. It's the sitting with their pads on that upsets their apple cart. That was another of my reasons for being so confoundedly close. You must try to forgive me. I couldn't help remembering how well you played up last trip, without any time to weaken on it beforehand. All I want is for you to be as cool and smart tomorrow night as you were then; though, by Jove, there's no comparison between the two cases!"

"I thought you would find it so."

"You were right, I have. Mind you, I don't say this will be the toughest job I'll round. We shall probably get in without any difficulty at all; it's the getting out again that may dumfuzz us. That's the worst of an irregular 'household'!" cried Raffles with quite a burst of virtuous indignation. "I assure you, Bunny, I spent the whole of Monday night in the shrubbery of the garden next door, looking over the wall, and, if you'll believe me, some-

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for my indigestion, malady, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest.

You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures.

August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the action of the bowels and tones up the entire system in a natural way.

Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

body was about all night long! I don't mean the Kaffirs. I don't believe they ever get to bed at all—poor devils! No, I mean Rosenthal himself and that nasty faced beast Purvis. They were up and drinking from midnight, when they came in, to broad daylight, when I cleared out. Even then I left them sober enough to slouch each other. By the way, they very nearly came to blows in the garden within a few yards of me, and I heard something that might come in useful and make Rosenthal shoot crooked at a critical moment. KICKED BY A MULE.

Mr. Richard Geagen, Sr., Painfully Hurt Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. Richard Geagen, Sr., an attache of the Livingston Bottling works, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon near his home on Clay street near Seventh. He had stopped his wagon to examine one of his mule's feet, when the animal kicked him in the head.

A long gash was cut across the scalp and his ear was badly mashed, and he was rendered unconscious. Someone passing Mr. Geagen's home asked his family if they knew that man lying outside, and he was found unconscious by them near the animal that kicked him. Six stitches were required to close the wound, but fortunately the injury is not serious, although it will lay him up for several days.

BREATHITT COUNTY CAMPAIGN NOW ON

Issue Seems to be Assassination or Anti-Assassination.

Fusion Ticket in the Field Waging War Principally on Hargis and His Followers.

THE CANDIDATES INDICTED

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 22.—The most remarkable political campaign ever conducted in the state of Kentucky, and perhaps the most unique one in history, is now being waged in Breathitt county, and for the next two months the people of the feud-ridden county will be made acquainted with facts and alleged facts, the nature of which they have never before heard of.

The two opposing parties in the present campaign are composed almost entirely of Democrats, the only exception being the candidates for county jailer on the fusion ticket, who is and has always been a Republican. The regular Democratic ticket is headed by James Hargis for county judge, while the fusion ticket is headed by Sewell S. Taulbee. The issue on which the fusion element is basing its fight is "anti-assassination," and the resolutions adopted by the party at the recent convention shows conclusively on what lines the battle will be fought.

The fight now being waged by the fusion ticket is made principally on County Judge Hargis, who, it is alleged, is the real leader of the Hargis-Callaahan faction in the feud which has raged in the county for the past three years, and every effort is being made to bring the people face to face with the alleged facts. It is only necessary to read the fifth paragraph in the resolution adopted by the fusionists to show the issue in the campaign. It says:

Administration Denounced.

"We denounce the present county administration for its utter disregard to law and precedent; we have seen our leading citizens shot down on the streets of Jackson, and instead of the so-called officers of the law making any attempt to apprehend the murderers, they rushed to the defense of those accused of the crimes; and we condemn the foul assassinations of Dr. D. B. Cox, James Cockrill and James B. Marcum, and point with horror and scorn to those officials who stood quietly by while the victims were wailing in their own blood, without so much as raising a finger toward rendering them aid in their dying agonies; and we feel assured that the time has come for the citizens of this blood-stained county to call a halt and place a ticket before the people to be voted for at the November election, which, if elected, can and will say that the law must be rigidly enforced."

This fight, it won by the fusion ticket, it is argued, will mean the redemption of Breathitt county. The candidates are now in the field speaking to the people throughout the county, and pointing out to them the vast timber and mineral resources of the county, which have gone to waste during the past four years, because foreign capitalists would not invest their money on account of the far-reaching feud, which has thrown the county into a turmoil during that time.

The present county judge, James Hargis; the present high sheriff, Edward Callahan, and Hargis' two brothers, former State Senator Alex Hargis and Elbert Hargis, are all under indictment in this county for the murder of Jim Cockrill, while they have been arrested and bound over to the grand jury of Breathitt county for procuring the assassination of J. B. Marcum. This matter will be investigated by the grand jury in Jackson next month.

Shot Down in Broad Day.

Hargis and Callahan were elected to office four years ago. Since that time all of the assassinations have occurred on the streets of Jackson, Marcum and Cockrill having been shot down from the front door of the courthouse in broad day, while Dr. Cox was assassinated just after dark on the main street of the town.

As this is the first campaign since any of the above crimes were committed, it is considered one of great importance.

As a proof that the best people of the county are opposed to the present methods, it is only necessary to point out the fact that Floyd and John Day, two of the most powerful and influential business men of the mountains, and brothers-in-law of Jim Hargis, are working to defeat him, while the present jailer, William Spencer, an uncle of the Hargises, and father of Matt Spencer, the Hargis candidate for sheriff, has openly denounced the entire ticket headed by Jim Hargis, and is working to elect the fusion ticket.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and help digest what you have eaten. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Middlebury, Tex., writes, May 31, 1901: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria."

A GAY WEEK

EVERYTHING IS NOW READY FOR THE BIG CARNIVAL NEXT WEEK.

There Will Be Plenty of Music and Amusement—Many Strangers
Coming.

The promoters of the Paducah Traveling Men's carnival which begins here Monday and lasts throughout the week, are ready for the coming of the Parker Co. shows and there will not be a hitch or delay in the opening of the carnival.

The "Sunflower Special," the Parker train composed of 32 60-foot cars, will arrive Saturday night and the shows will be put up Sunday and will be ready for business on the opening night.

The ticket office and the country store are complete and ready for occupancy. The stock is being moved into the country store today and the department will be stocked and ready for business by Saturday night. Donations are coming in fast and the store will be one of the biggest features of the carnival.

Mr. W. T. Miller, the piano man, has donated the use of a piano and piano player to the ladies in charge of the American Inn. The tent for the American Inn is being completed today and will be put up by Sunday night.

Mr. Harry Johnson, of the N. C. & St. L. road will act as chief of the ticket men, having charge of directing them in their work of selling and taking tickets.

There will be plenty of music throughout the entire carnival week, not only during the night, but the day as well. The big Parker band of 32 pieces, will give two concerts daily during the week. This is one of the biggest and best bands playing for any carnival company and will be a musical feature rarely ever seen with the average carnival.

The N. C. & St. L. road has made arrangements to run excursions daily from Tennessee, starting at Paris at 9 o'clock a. m., and arriving here about 11, leaving again at 11 o'clock at night. The promoters expect a big patronage from down the N. C. road, especially.

The I. C. will also run excursion rates from different points and there will be good patronage from the river towns, the carnival being extensively advertised all over this section.

SENT TO BOLIVAR.

A. H. Dugger Will Be Tried for Assault to Commit Murder When His Mind Is Restored.

Jackson, Tenn., Sept. 22.—The case of A. H. Dugger, which has been much complicated since he was declared by a jury last week as of unsound mind, has at last been settled. Dugger, it will be remembered, a few months ago attempted to kill Chief of Police T. C. Gaston, when the latter went to arrest him. Dugger has been in jail since, and was put on trial at this term of the court making the ground of insanity as a defense. Judge Dugger in a defense, Judge Woods has made an order to place Dugger in the asylum for West Tennessee, to be held until such time as he shall be declared sane, and then returned to Jackson and tried for assault with intent to commit murder. Dugger was formerly a prominent business man of this city and is widely known. His case has attracted much interest, not only here, but in Mississippi, where he was reared.

Abscesses.

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Col.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

ADMITTS CHARGE.

That Asphalt Company Attempted to Start Revolution.

New York, Sept. 23.—The disposition of $101,000 which the government of Venezuela claims was paid by the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company to Gen. Matos to buy a steamship in Europe with which to prosecute a revolution against the Venezuelan government, was inquired into today during the taking of testimony in the case of the Venezuelan government against the Asphalt company.

This was the second session in securing depositions in New York for use in a suit now pending in the highest court of Venezuela against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company, which is charged with assisting Gen. Matos' revolution by contributions of money.

Thomas H. Thomas, president of the asphalt company in 1901, said that in November, 1901, $101,000 was paid to a New York law firm. Asked whether it was charged on the books of the asphalt company to an account known as "the government account," he replied:

"It possibly was."
The counsel for the Venezuelan government said his country intended to prove that this money went to the purchase of a revolutionary steamship. Mr. Thomas also said that an expense item of $400,000, which was characterized in a report of the asphalt company as being necessary, was probably intended for the purpose of maintaining armed guards on the company's property.

L. A. Kuhl, who was in the employ of the company at the time of the revolution, said that he had seen the revolutionists given both money and food by his company.

REMARKABLE SERVICE.

W. Hison Writes Note After Being Shot Through the Heart.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 23.—W. Hison, only son of Archie L. Hison, president of the E. R. Hison Banking company, was found dead last night in the rear office of the bank with a bullet through his heart. A note written in a scrawling hand stated that he shot himself while cleaning his pistol and had vainly tried to telephone a doctor. The body was stretched out on his back with feet under the telephone and a small-caliber pistol was lying close by. A half-smoked cigarette was on the floor.

The suicide theory is not believed by relatives, as the young man had no reason for self-destruction, and the nature of the wound would have allowed him a few minutes of life. Hison was 21 years old, and was exceedingly popular. He was a clerk in his father's bank.

Coroner Stewart was summoned, but no inquest was considered necessary.

PRELIMINARY INQUIRY

Determines Amount Actually Owed State by Sherrick.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 23.—As determined by a preliminary investigation in the auditor's office conducted by Warren Brigler, the newly appointed auditor, the actual amount that is now due the state from David E. Sherrick, ex-auditor, is $121,202.46, this being the difference between the amount that the office owes to the state and the amount actually paid into the state treasury.

The amount due was deducted from the original figure by the $22,000 bank deposit paid yesterday afternoon. To meet his deficit the state has in its possession securities of the face value of about $152,000, the real value of which has not been ascertained.
